EDMONTON REPORT

By Donald F. Smith
Special Correspondent

EDMONTON—With Alberta farmers taking every advantage of the Indian summer weather of the past few weeks, agriculture officials, feeling the busy farmer would have little time for paper work, estimated the survey of seed and feed grain problems will not be known until about the end of November.

While the warm, suny days have helped to improve the situation immeasurably compared to the bleak prospect when the survey was launched early this month, it is expected that some areas will require help to fulfill next year's seed needs.

Last week's crop report from the provincial department of agriculture said the yields looked satisfactory in view of the conditions of the crop at the time killing frosts occurred. In some cases, it added, farmers are coming out better than they expected when estimates were made about the middle of September.

Wheat grades in southern Alberta are expected to average No. 2 and 3 Northern. There is a little No. 3 in the Peace River district, according to the department, but in most other areas wheat is expected to fall into grades five and six. In northern parts of the Peace River district much oats and barley is expected to rate C.W. grades and in districts east of Lethbridge it will grade above feed. In other areas, the crop report said, oats and barley will be classed as one and two with some three feed.

As to harvesting operations, the Peace River and southern districts reported better progress than such areas at Olds, Stettler, Lacombe, Ponoka, Edmonton, Westlock, Smoky Lake and Bonnyville. Many fields of late oats and barley will not be threshed this year, the agriculture department predicted.

The survey, being made by questionnaires prepared by the agriculture department and distributed by municipal districts and district agriculturists, is the result of representations to the government.

It has been several years since assistance of the type probably to be given in this case was necessary on such a large scale.

Indications are that the needs will be mostly in the area between Red Deer and Athabasca and those fringe areas of subsistence farming where resources are more meagre. It is expected that the major needs will be for seed oats.

Agriculture officials believe there are plentiful supplies and importation from outside the province is not expected to be necessary.

Once the survey is completed and assessed, further meetings between the government and farm organizations are expected to be held, following which a course of action will be decided. If it is the supplying of seed and feed, it will be matter of locating stocks, then placing them in the areas of need.

At the time of announcing the survey, Premier Manning also stated the government would support the Alberta Federation of Agriculture in asking the federal government for loans on farm-stored grain and further payment on grain delivered during the last crop year. A letter of support has been sent to Ottawa from the Alberta government by Agriculture Minister Halmrast.

Feeling of the federation was that without cash or credit, the farmers would be hard put to meet living and harvesting costs and might turn to selling grain which should be kept for seed or feed and marketing unfinished livestock for little or no profit.

Premier Manning, when he announced plans for the survey, suggested that farmers are facing an "immediate problem" caused by poor weather conditions but at the same time the province's agriculture economy remains stable and sound.

Master Farm Family Awards

Winners of the 1954 Master Farm Family awards were announced today by Hon. L. C. Halmrast, Minister of Agriculture. This is the sixth year of the Master Farm Family Award Program

This year's Master Farm Families are:

Martin Arndt Family, Barrhead.
Harlie H. Conrad Family, Clairmont.
Adam Buyer Family, Carbon.
William Storch Family, Garden Plains.
Ansley King Family, High River

Each family receives an award of $1,000, an engraved plaque, and a name plate for the farmstead entrance.

The Master Farm Family program's main objective is to honor Alberta farmers who have achieved outstanding success in farming and in family and community life. The program emphasizes the advantage of the farming vocation and the spiritual and material satisfaction of farm life. Through the program, farm youth became acquainted with the opportunities which agriculture offers and with the ideals to which professional farmers aspire.

"Good Farming, Right Living and Clear Thinking is the slogan of the Master Farm Family Program," Mr. Halmrast said. "In these three phases are summarized the principles which should guide all those who make the cultivation of Alberta's soil their vocation."

"These principles have been followed by the five families whom we honor this year. I feel that their achievements in agriculture, home-making and good citizenship deserve public recognition and respect."

Increased interest in the program was evident this year with 32 families receiving nominations for the awards; last year 22 were nominated. All candidates must be Canadian citizens who have operated a farm either as owner or lessee for 20 consecutive years. Three neighbors must make the nomination and the nominated family must agree to accept the honor.

Winners are selected on a regional basis and confirmed by a provincial committee. Each regional committee is composed of a working farmer, a technial agriculturist, a home economist, a housewife and a representative from the Dominion Experimental Farms. Each regional corresponds roughly to one of the five Alberta soil zones.

A total of 87 factors related to the farm operation, farm life, community work and business management are evaluted in each case and points given for each factor. Candidates are rated in comparison with a maximum possible score for each point.

The Minister of Agriculture extends the congratulations of the Alberta Government to the five families whose high achievements gained them the awards. He also congratulates the other candidates, emphasizing that nomination is a great honor in itself and proof of the community's admiration and respect. Mr. Halmrast commended the paintaking work of the selection committees, whose assistance in the program is invaluable.

Eight donation were received at the Warner clinic this summer from one family, Mr. and Mrs. John Entz, three sons and three daughters all attended.

More Donors Needed

Red Cross Blood Donor Clinic Here Nov. 10th

Plans have been completed for the holding of a Red Cross Blood Clinic at the Legion hall in Vulcan on Wednesday, Nov. 10, from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m.

Al regular donors and all others willing to help the Red Cross in its effort to keep supplying free blood for Alberta residents are particularly urged to attend this clinic. The last clinic held in Vulcan gained only 82 bottles of blood and it is felt that this amount can easily be doubled if local residents will make an extra effort to attend the clinic here next Wednesday.

The cost per bottle of blood becomes high when a mobile clinic is sent out and set up for less than 100 donors. The cost of mileage, wear and tear on equipment and of paid personnel is the same whether the clinic has 50 donors or 500.

At the present time in this province no hospital and no person in need of blood or blood plasma has to worry about that need. There are no frantic searchers for donors and blood types while precious hours tick away. The Red Cross Transfusion Service meets the call with speed and, above all, with scientific certainty as to blood type and hygienic cleanliness.

The effort is worthwhile — all that is needed is a sufficient number of donors. Plan now to attend the donor clinic in Vulcan on Wednesday, Nov. 10.

Walker - Gittens Rites at Edmonton

The chancel and altar of St. Mary's Anglican Church were decorated with autumn-colored chrysanthemums for the early afternoon marriage of Miss Diane Ruth Gittins and Mr. Kenneth Ralph Walker.

Canon William T. Elkin performed the ceremony for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Gittins of Edmonton and the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Ross Walker of Vulcan.

The bride received her B.Sc. degree from the University of Alberta and is a member of Pi Beta Phi fraternity. Mr. Walker also graduated from the U of A with a B.Sc. degree in civil engineering. He is affiliated with Delta Upsilon fraternity.

Mr. Gittins gave his daughter in marriage.

A gown of white brocaded satin styled on princess lines with an Empire bodice was worn by the bride. The bodice featured a scalloped portrait neckline and short sleeves and she wore elbow-length lily-point mittens. A headdress of brocade trimmed with seed pearls held in place the bride's chapel veil of French illusion.

Her jewelry was a pearl necklace and earrings and she carried a white brocade Prayer book garlanded with cream roses.

Attending the bride was her sister, Miss Thelma Gittins, as maid of honor, and her cousin, little Joan Gittins, flower girl.

The maid of honor wore a waltz-length gown of tulle over taffeta in a gold shade and her dress was styled with a strapless bodice and a bouffant skirt which was posed over a crinoline petticoat. Shirred tulle sleeves modified the neckline of her gown and she wore a bandeau in her hair and carried a semi-cascade bouquet of white, gold and bronze baby chrysanthemums intermingled with ivy.

A taffy colored frock styled with a Peter-Pan collar, puffed sleeves and ruffled petticoat was worn by the flower girl. In her hair she wore a matching bandeau and she carried a basket of white and mauve chrysanthemums.

Mr. Allan Walker, brother of the groom, was best man. Ushers were Mr. D. G. Walker, a brother, and Mr. Wendell Wolfe.

Wedding music was played by Mr. J. Wallin and Mrs. Herbert Till of Winnipeg sang "Jesu, Joy Of Man's Desiring" during the service and "O Perfect Love" during the signing of the register.

After the service a reception for 100 guests was held in the church hall. Mrs. Gittins and Mrs. Walker received guests with the bridal party.

A dress of almond green panaglaze was worn by Mrs. Gittins. Her hat was a matching shade and she wore brown accessories and a corsage of Talisman roses and white chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Walker chose a slate blue dress with accessories of dusky rose. Her corsage was of pink roses.

Canon Elkin proposed a toast to the bride.

For a motor trip the bride donned a blue wool dress topped with a brown coat and accessories to tone. A corsage of Sweetheart roses and a gardenia was pinned at her shoulder.

Shower Honors Young Newlyweds

Some 40 guests gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Walker Saturday evening to tender a miscellaneous shower to Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Walker, recent newlyweds of Edmonton.

Mrs. F. J. Mensinger, Mrs. W. A. Fritzpatrick and Mrs. Frieda McRoberts assisted by a number of friends of the district were in charge of arrangements.

A most pleasant social evening was enjoyed, after which Mrs. Mensinger, on behalf of those assembled presented the guests of honor with a beautiful assortment of useful and lovely gifts for their new home. The bride was first presented with a gaily colored kitchen apron, depicting the different stages of the couple's future life, which caused much amusement.

Ralph and Diane very graciously thanked their friends for the kindness and good wishes extended to them and for the presentation made to them.

The hostesses and friends served a delicious lunch to bring the evening to a close.

SERVICE BOARD NOTES

H. S. Burns, Field Supervisor

Very recently the petitions have all been returned asking for a restricted area for the control of Bovine Brucellosis, (Bang's Disease) in the County of Vulcan. These petitions have now been presented to the Department of Agriculture at Edmonton, and in a very short time we expect to have this a Restricted Area, which will require complete vaccination of all heifer calves. This will be a big undertaking and will require very close co-operation with every one taking part in the work.

It is not too early to be looking to your facilities for the quick and easy handling of calves, so that the work will proceed with dispatch once it is commenced. If you only have one or two calves, or half a dozen, having them in a stall in the barn is allirght providing some help is available and the pens are strong enough. If more calves are involved there should be a chute where several can be run in at once.

All of the Veterinarians who will be taking part in this work will have to come considerable distances. We will do our utmost to have you notified in time, of the day to expect to the Vet. at your farm. Watch for further word through this column during the next few weeks.

GARAGE SERVICE

Open on Sunday from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m., and until 8 p.m. each day this coming week.

Measure of Relief Needed

There are many areas in Western Canada where the farmers must have some sort of relief to tide them over till another crop year. It is wise for the provincial and federal governments to get together and adequately survey the situation. It is natural that farmers' organizations should be most concerned and their officers can be excused for of restraint Flying trip to Ottawa are not complete solution, for we suspect that the authorities at Ottawa have already started to worry over the situation. Harping on wheat surpluses by unsympathetic faction in Eastern Canada will not help the situation. There is a group of people in Eastern Canada which thinks Candian wheat could and should be sold at sacrifice prices. Can't they see that if Western Canada's economy collapses so goes all Canada?

—Camrose Canadian.

I Thought It Was a Deer . . .

A red cap sits at a jaunty angle on his head. A rifle shining with newness is gripped tightly in his hands. His eyes peer up the well-worn game trail. A dry twig cracks sharply in front. Leaves move as if something were passing through the trees. He whips his weapon to his shoulder, aims quickly and fires. A body thumps into the dry leaves carpeting the forest floor. A human body—that is his hunting companion. The hunter thought it was a deer! There is no need to elaborate on the genuine remorse this hunter must have felt over the accident. But it is hardly believable how such accidents could happen. Men are not only taken for deer but recent reports show that they've been mistaken for squirrels, partridges, racoons, moose, fox. Then there are other hunters who handle their guns so carelessly they not only endanger the lives of those around them, but their own. Such a theme is expressed in a 20-minute 16 millimetre motion picture film available from Canadian Industries (1954) Ltd. This production "stars" Trigger Happy Harry who is the epitome of the man who does everything wrong with a rifle. His antics serve as a convincing lesson to hunters who are in the "sound shot" class or whose impatience impells them to let loose at the slightest movement in the bush. The film is well worth seeing. Our constitution has given every Canadian the right to own a rifle or shot gun without the benefit of permit or registration. Let us not usurp this right by making murder weapons of them. Make absolutely certain you know what you're shooting at this coming season before you squeeze the trigger. Statistics show hunting is still one of the safest sports. Let's keep it that way.

The School Lunch Program

The rapid rate of centralization of Alberta schools during the post-war years has resulted in a greater need for an adequate school lunch program. One-fifth of the children of Alberta -- one-third of the rural children — are now transported to and from school by bus. A child who attends school regularly through Grade XII may consume as many as 2300 of his meals at school — every one of those meals every bit as important to his growth and development as those consumed at home. In view of this Miss B. Joyce Lewis, Extension Nutritionist with the Alberta Department of Agriculture has compiled an excellent bulletin entitled "The School Lunch in Aberta." In it she says:

"A good school lunch can do much to contribute to the health and happiness of our children. This does not necessarily mean that a hot lunch must be provided. A good lunch may be either hot or cold. The school lunch program may be a hot lunch program, it may be a plan to supplement the packed lunch with an esssential food which has been found lacking (such as milk or fruit or vegetable) or it may simply be a program to improve the packed lunch. For years some of our Alberta schools have been trying to provide something in the way of a lunch supplement, such as soup, cocoa or a bottle of milk. To often these programs have been discontinued because of lack of variety. Children do not enjoy sameness, and the, monotony of the same type of food repeated daily grows tiresome. A simple but well planned supplement on the other hand, adds interest and variety, and the stimulating effect of such a supplement makes every lunch a better lunch.

The aim of this bulleting is to help you find a way of providing such a supplement for the children in your school. It suggests methods for the organization and operation of a hot lunch program and shows how much a program may be correlated with usual school activities."

The booklet then goes on to cite examples of how school lunch programs have been organized and operated in schools of various sizes and in various part of the province. These examples deal with some of the problems met in organizing the program, some of the equipment used and how this equipment was procured and methods of financing.

Following this is a supgested procedure for organization, how you might solve many of the problems encountered, it discusses planning and purchasing food, guides to buying methods of serving, etc. Recipes for 100 servings have been prepared to supplement this bulletin. The recipes are set up so they may be clipped and pasted on 5" x 8" cards.

We will gladly provide a copy of the "The School Lunch in Alberta' for any organization sponsoring a school lunch program or to individuals actively interested in promotiag lunch programs. Just write to me at this office stating the school lunch situation as it is now, size and location of school, etc. and I will forward you a copy of the bulletin and visit you to be of any assistance I can in the setting up of such a program.

For those of you who already have a school lunch program but perhaps would like a few new ideas on lunch box meals send to this office for the bulletin "Lunch Boxes and Hot School Lunches" which is available for general distribution.

Dear Sir:

My attention has been drawn to the fact that a Red Cross Donor Clinic is being held at the Legion Hall, Wednesday, November 10th from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m.

It is very unfortunate that there has been such poor response to the appeal for donors, particularly so in such a large district as ours. There have been a few faithful donors who have responded to the appeal each year but there are many who have never donated to the blood clinic.

Blood transfusions are life saving in many conditions such as Haemorrhagic Diseases, Shock from wounds and burns, Malnutrition in infants and severe infections. In such cases it is the blood transfusion that will save the life of the patient.

The Red Cross Blood Donor Clinic has provided the following services free of charge—

1. Establishment of blood banks because of the increased demand for blood.

2. Send out mobile units to the various districts to collect the blood. A well qualified staff takes a pint or less of blood from each donor using a technique that causes no pain or discomfort to the donor. Each donor is tested beforehand to make sure that he is not anaemic and is well able to give blood. Most people after having given blood notice an improvement in their general well-being and the pint they have given is quickly replaced by the remarkable ability of the body's bone marrow to produce blood.

3. Bottles of blood plasma are given to all hospitals to have on hand for emergency use. Whole blood is stored in the blood bank which is immediately available when neede. Outside of Alberta in many places a transfusion costs the patient twenty-five dollars and up plus the promise of replacement.

4. The blood of both donor and recipient is grouped, cross matched and Rh tested in order to avoid any serious complications from blood transfusion reactions.

It is not necessary for to cite the many cases in this district that have received blood transfusions. The patients, their friends and relatives are well aware of it. When a family is stricken by illness or accident in this district, it is noteworthy that all the neighbors respond so quickly to lend a helping hand. Why then do we not give a greater response to the Red Cross appeal for blood donors. It is because there is not an acute realization of the importance of blood transfusions but there certainly would be if no blood was available for immediate transfusion for a loved one. We just take it for granted that the transfusion will be available.

Let us support this wonderful service that is being provided by the Red Cross.

Yours truly,
A. D. Tompkins, M.D.

3100 pints of blood have been collected at Lethbridge this year. This makes an average of one donation from every eight people. An exceptionally good response from such a large place.

It's in The Oven!"

Would you be in favor of meals that cook themselves? Of course you would and that's just what you can have by preparing time saving, nutritious oven meals for your family. This method of meal preparation is oh! so easy on the cook too.

Just look at all the savings!
—You save fuel or power—you're just using one element.
—You save dishwashing—serve the foods in the dishes in which they are cooked. (Keeps them hot longer too)
—You save food value—cook your vegetables in very little water and keep those vitamins locked in the food.
—You save time — just pop the foods in the oven, they cook themselves!

Remember—
--Root vegetables are best for oven cookery— turnips, parsnips, beets, potatoes, carrots, onions. Some other tasty oven cooked vegetables are tomatoes, celery, marrow and squash.
--Vegetables require twice as long when cooked in the oven as when cooked on top of the range. Cook them in a covered casserole with a very small amount of water. If you're having canned vegetable with your oven meal, put it in a casserole in the oven about 15 minutes before the meal is to come out.

Wondering about oven baked desserts? There are a host of them —fruit cobbler, custard, fruit muffins, stewed and baked fruit. You must plan your meals so that everything to be cooked is done at the same temperature.

Here's a sample oven meal that's quick to prepare and wonderful to eat! You can use it on a busy day when guests drop in — or just as a special treat for the family.
Temperature 350° F
Time 30 Minutes

Individual Meat Loaves

1 egg; ½ cup tomato juice; 1 cup soft bread crumbs; 1tsp. salt; ½ tsp. dry mustard; ⅛ tsp. celery; ¼ tsp. pepper; 3 tsp. grated onion 1 lb. ground beef.

Combine egg, tomato juice, bread crumbs; add seasoning, onion and ground beef. Pack into greased muffin pans. Bake at 350° F for 30 minutes. Makes 12 loaves.

Rice Cheese Ring

2 eggs; 2 tbsp. melted butter; ½ tsp. salt; ⅛ tsp. pepper; ¼ tsp. onion juice; 1½ cups milk; 1½ cups cooked rice; 1½ cups grated cheese; 1 can tomato soup.

Beat eggs until light, add butter seasonings, milk, rice and cheese. Blend thoroughly and turn into a buttered ring mold, filling only ⅔ full. Set in a pan of hot water and bake at 350° F for 30 minutes. Unmold and serve with hot undiluted tomato soup.

Peach Marshmallow Dessert

1 can drained peach halves; 1 tbsp. almond flavoring; ½ cup brown sugar; Marshmallows.

Place peach halves in buttered baking dish; add flavoring and brown sugar. Dip marshmallows in peach juice and put on top. Bake.

Get busy and start dreaming up more luscious oven meals — your family will love them!

MANY WAYS TO SKIN A CAT

A New Yorker is telling friends about an experience he had down East. Entering the outskirts of a small New England town he wasn't driving recklessly, but he was clocking it a trifle above the posted speed limit. As he rounded a bend he saw half a dozen cars parked off the road, and a police signaling him to stop. When the officer approached him, pulling out his book, the New Yorker figured he was caught in a speed trap.

The officer reminded him politely about the speed limit and estimated accurately how much faster the motorist had been going. 'In this town," the officer told him gravely, "that could cost you $50 or even a spell in jail."

Then, before the victim could get a word in, the officer's face lighted up and he asked, as if reciting a carefully memorized piece and getting a kick out of it, "Did I hear you say, sir, that you were hurrying down to our local Red Cross headquarters to donate a pint of blood in the drive we are now conducting?" It didn't take the New York driver any time to allow that was exactly what he had been doing.

"Well, now," the officer said approvingly, putting away his book and motioning toward the parked cars, "you just get in line behind those other patriotic folks, and I'll lead the way myself, so no one will bother you and you won't get lost."

WHAT DOES PUBLIC WELFARE DO IN ALBERTA

Public Welfare has become an important activity at all levels of government. In free societies such as Alberta the welfare for the unfortunate is the concern of every citizen and on this account there is need of a central organization to advise and assist all general community programs to ease the burden of the handicapped.

This is the reason why welfare as administered by the Department of Public Welfare has always been an integral part of the Alberta Government's welfare programme which, with the exception of the Blind Persons' Allowances and the Old Age Assistance, is financed entirely out of Provincial revenues. Ten years ago the total expenditures for this purpose amounted to $5,216,887., while the amount provided for the present fiscal year has been set at $10,902,945.

The responibility for providing assistance in the form of food, fuel clothing and shelter and, when necessary, hospital and medical services to indigent persons rests with the municipality in which residence has been acquired. The Province provides grants to municipalities up to sixty percent of the cost of such assistance. The cost of providing the same form of assistance to persons who have no municipal residence is assumed by the Province.

Single, homeless, unemployable men who have not acquired municipal residence are cared for in the Provincial hostels at Calgary and Edmonton. Those who are not in need of any special care are transferred to the healthy atmosphere at the Gunn Welfare Depot.

The training and rehabilitation of Alberta's Metis population is also provided by the Province. In Colonies established in various parts of Alberta more than 2000 persons of mixed blood are living a protected life which offers them a future of independence and material success. Agriculture, lumbering and fishing are engaged in, providing revenue and a sense of self-sufficiency to the Colonists. Provision is made for the education of children and their spiritual welfare is provided for by representatives of various religious denominations. General stores operate in two of the larger Colonies supplying food and clothing at reasonable prices.

To enable municipalities to meet the housing requirements of their elderly or infirm citizens the Province has made provision for the payment of construction grants to any municipality which builds homes for its aged and infirm. If the municipality is required to pay for any of their residents who have been transferred to larger centers, which situation seldom exists, a grant up to 50% of the cost thereof is available from the Province.

Under an agreement with the Government of Canada the Alberta Government has set up a Committee to deal with the rehabilitation of disabled persons by arranging medical treatment where necessary and for vocational training with a view to enabling such persons to become self-supporting.

Children who have become permanent wards of the Government are placed in foster homes and as a rule are available for adoption.

The entire cost of administration of these services and of Old Age Assistance, Blind Persons' Allowances, Widows' Pensions, Disabled Persons' Pensions, Supplementary Allowances and Mothers' Allowances is assumed by the Province. Of the payments made to recipients of Old Age Assistance and Blind Persons' Allowances a portion is recoverable from the Government of Canada, while in the case of Child Welfare and Mothers' Allowances the municipalities in which the beneficiaries resided or have acquired residence are liable for a portion of the amount expended.

Future of Thatcher Wheat Down But Not Out

By W. G. MALAHER

Any consideration of the future position of Thatcher wheat must now be viewed in relation to the variety Selkirk which, under the conditions that have prevailed this year, has shown up remarkably well, both from the standpoint of disease resistance and yield. However, any suggestion that Thatcher is on the way out throughout Western Canada and that it will soon be replaced largely, if not altogether by Selkirk, is, we feel, premature. Certainly in areas where rust normally strikes, in both Saskatchewan and Manitoba, farmers, quite understandably, will be disposed to switch as soon as possible from Thatcher to Selkirk. But it is hardly likely that farmers all across the West will be in too big a hurry to discard a variety which has been tried, tested and approved under all manner of soil and moisture conditions for the past 18 years and which, apart from its ability to face 15-B, has shown up so well both from the standpoint of adaptability, yield, drought resistance and shattering. We feel, therefore, that, for the time being at least, farmers on the fringe of, or outside the normal rust areas, might do well to think twice before they discontinue the growing of Thatcher which has been outstanding for so many years.

During the past few years, whilst Selkirk has been under test, we have enjoyed unusually favorable moisture conditions but this variety, excellent as we know it to be in most respects, has not so far been adequately tested for drought resistance, so that it is not known yet what it will do when moisture supplies are limited or inadequate for normal development of the crop. From the one or two isolated instances where moisture was limited, however, there are indications that Thatcher may show up to rather better advantage in comparison. It is also recognized that Thatcher does not shatter as easily as Selkirk and where the crop has to be combined this too, is something which must be taken into consideration.

For years Thatcher has been undisputed "king" and although this variety will have to give place quite properly to one that carries the ability to resist the more recent races of wheat stem rust, we predict that it will still remain an important variety on a large number of farms in Western Canada which are outside the areas normally affected by rust, at least until such time as Selkirk has been tested more fully under field conditions in years of restricted rainfall.

We do know that Thatcher can take the punishment that no other variety has yet been able to take and that, of course, is why it has been held in such high regard and why as late as 1953 it accounted for close to 70 percent of all the wheat grown in Western Canada. Selkirk is a definite improvement upon fairly recent introductions, such as Redman and, because of its resistance to 15-B, there is no denying the important place that it will fill, but at this stage it might be wise to proceed carefully in any general change-over throughout the west, for the reasons mentioned.

In fact, we believe that at the present time probably the two varieties mentioned: namely Thatcher and Selkirk, as well as possibly Chinook, where the saw-fly is a problem, will each find a place and will each have something to contribute where their agronomic characteristics are a factor. There is a great deal to be said, surely, for not going all-out in adopting a single variety, promising as that variety may be, and this is the thought we would like to put forward at the present time.

High Voltage

ALUMINUM CABLE from Canada was used in a Peruvian high-voltage power line, installed at altitudes of from 13,000 to 15,000 feet—the world's highest. Canada supplied not only the cable but also the technical assistance required on this record job. We imagine that aluminum's light weight was particularly appreciated by the llamas or whatever other beasts of burden were used to get the cable to the top.

In the rugged mountain country of British Columbia where Alcan's own huge Kitimat development is going on, the aluminum transmission lines used represent another record: they are the largest-diameter overhead power lines in the world. Aluminum Company of Canada, Ltd. (Alcan).

About Quack Grass

It's not enough to cover quack grass with black soil and expect the grass to disappear. This is something that has received a fair amount of attention the last while. Enquiries have been coming in to the University of Alberta from new home owners and others asking whether or not a fill of a foot or so of soil would tend to smother the quack.

A search of the literature on this type of treatment yeilded little, so last summer, Dr. W. G. Corns, Associate Professor of Plant Science, set up a series of experiments with a view to providing information desired. On plots with a strong growth of quack, three foot square sections were covered with black soil to depths of 5, 10 and 15 inches respectively. In every case the quack pushed through and flourished. Later examination of plants in the 15 inch block showed underground stems well formed near the surface and rapidly storing reserves for winter.

On an adjoining plot TCA was used at a rate of ¾ lb. to 100 square feet. The chemical was applied in June using a shoulder-strap sprayer. Although blocks of black earth 5, 10 and 15 inches deep were set up on this plot also, the TCA so thoroughly checked growth of the grass that none reappeared on any portion of the plot.

TCA is a soil sterilant. The duration of its effect is less than that of sodium chlorate but it does inhibit growth for around ninety days after application. This suggests that an interval of at least three months should elapse between spraying and planting to lawn or garden. Since in some cases sterility may persist for longer than ninety days, it's a wise precaution, even at the end of that time, to put on a few inches of top soil before planting.

For ease of kill with quack grass, spraying before filling would seem the best procedure. Reliance on fill alone can prove disappointing.

Some fellers don't mind trouble, others stay single.

Calfhood Vaccination Against Bang's Disease

Vaccination to prevent various diseases is an accepted practice in both human and veterinary medicine. With cattle, vaccination against blackleg has saved thousands of head. Calfhood vaccination against Bang's disease has proven very effective in Alberta in reducing losses in infected herds and preventing losses in clean herds.

The vaccination of heifer calves from 4-9 months of age gives them a good resistance so that when they mature they will not lose their calves prematurely. At least on hundreds of thousands of calves vaccinated in Canada and the United States, vaccination has proven to be about 95% effective in preventing such losses. Over a period of 4-6 years a complete herd with a resistance against the disease can be built up.

As the vaccinated heifers mature and go as herd replacements into the beef or dairy herd, older cows that are infected with Bang's disease should be sold for slaughter. In this way, a cattleman will be able to practically eliminate the disease in a few years. That has been done at the University of Alberta, by ranchers and dairymen in the province. Good herd management though, has to be practiced at all times to give the best results.

Calfhood vaccination has proven to be an effective, economical and practical way to prevent and control Bang's disease of cattle. It should be practiced in clean herds as well as infected ones. Start building up a Bang's resistant herd now. Protect your income and health of your family. Remember, the disease can cause undulant fever in humans. Remember too if buying herd additions, only buy those that were vaccinated as calves. Better still, raise your own.

Cards have been mailed out to stockmen in order to facilitate calfhood vaccination for Bang's disease, as has been done during previous years. The sooner the cards are returned the quicker the work can be organized. No postage is necessary on the cards, as it has already been paid.

The Alberta Department of Agriculture recommends calfhood vaccination, coupled with good herd management, as an economical and practical way to prevent and control the disease. Raising your own herd replacements or only buying cattle vaccinated as calves is a wise procedure. The co-operation of all cattlemen will be greatly appreciated in building up Bangs resistant herds by having all heifer calves vaccinated this fall.

Gama Globulim, What It Is

Gamma globulin, in areas where poliomyelitis is prominent, has attracted widespread interest. In some area the demand for its protective action has been violently insistent beyond any possibility of its being satisfied. What is this wonderful substance?

Gama globulin is the specific portion of human blood containthe protective factors which render people immune from a disease which they have previously contacted. It thus carries protection against all commonly occurring infectious diseases having a more or less permanent immunity, e.g. measles, chicken pox, infectious jaundice and mumps. Since most adults have contacted "polio" in a mild and undiagnosable form, the gamma globulin extracted from their blood is effective against this disease. In preparation the blood is pooled so that the resulting gamma globulin contains the degree of immunity enjoyed by the adult population in general. When a sufficient amount of this product is injected a temporary immunity from polio is achieved. It lasts for some five weeks or so. This immunity, properly used, may save a life or the use of a limb where polio is prevalent.

Gamma globulin is costly. At wholesale commercial rates it would cost from about $10. to $40., according to the dose required. Because of this, it is evident that its use must be controlled to assure its greatest effectiveness and in Canada must be clearly understood that this is a responsibility of the government which is making its large scale manufacture possible. The Departments of Public Health will govern its distribution according to the need. The Canadian Red Cross is responsible only for the collection of blood to enable the manufacture of gamma globulin.

Without the Canadian Red Cross support, this gamma globulin program would be scarcely possible at all. It is only because the Red Cross can command a very large amount of free voluntary support in its work that this portion of the blood program can be carried out. What other organization could undertake the provision of 150,000 bottles of blood per year at such low cost? Indeed, what other organization could command the voluntary support of so many willing blood donors?

By entering into the government's gamma globulin program, the Red Cross Blood Transfusion Service is able to assure its blood donors that their contribution has yet another avenue by means of which health and even may be assured. It should not be forgotten, however, that the immediate provision of fresh blood for use in our hospitals is oy far the most important part of the B.T.S. work. The provision of plasma for use in emergencies ranks second. Other important medical uses for blood products will come in the near future. The Canadian Red Cross supporters can look forward with pride to the increasingly important role which they play, through their participation in the Society's blood transfusion program.

MEMO TO ADVERTISERS

Meet Mr. A.B.C. – He Works for our Advertisers

He is one of the experienced circulation auditors on the staff of the Audit Bureau of Circulations.* Just as a bank examiner makes a periodic check of the records of your bank—so does Mr. A.B.C. visit our office at regular intervals to make an exacting inspection and audit of our circulation records. The circulation facts thus obtained are condensed in easy-to-read audit reports which tell our advertisers: How much circulation we have; where it goes; how it was obtained; and many other FACTS that tell advertisers what they get for their money when they advertise in this newspaper.

AUDITED PAID CIRCULATION ABC

Advertisers are invited to ask for a copy of our latest A.B.C. report.

*The Audit Bureau of Circulations, of which this newspaper is a member, is a cooperative, nonprofit association of 3,575 advertisers, advertising agencies and publishers. Organized in 1914, A.B.C. brought order out of advertising chaos by establishing: A definition for paid circulation; rules and standards for auditing and reporting the circulations of newspapers and periodicals.

History of Milo-Queenstown Lutheran Ladies Aid

We have never restricted our cemetery to our Church members, but the time is drawing near when we feel that such must be the case, as so many do not go near cemetery after they bury their dear ones and it is left to us to keep it up. This piece of land was given by Ole Nelson to be used as a cemetery, and a great deal of lumber was also given by him for the building of the Church. Pete Soli was the main carpenter. Little Charles Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Severt Johnson, was the first to be buried in the cemetery. He died in 1907 at the age of three years. We hope that this resting place will be remembered by those who have dear ones buried there, and that they will help us in keeping it up. Much work has to be done.

The income for the next few years tell the story of the 1932 depression. That year the income was $48.20 with expenses $106.00; this included $100.00 to the minister and also a gift of $5.00; also to the minister. This year also was the first real attempt to have minutes taken at every meeting.

Income for 1933 was down to $30.75 and expenses were only $9.05.

Income for the year 1934 was $21.65 with expenses $7.65.

In 1935, the depression had a real grip on everything and, as a consequence, the "Aid" suffered and only one meeting is recorded for this year and the collection is reported at $1.75.

It should be noted that from 1920 through 1930, the "Aid" prospered. This was a period in which more money was taken in than was spent until 1929 when $958.24 was spent mostly for necessities for the new Church. This was also a time of prosperity for the members. Their homestead "shacks were replaced by new and larger modern homes, many of them a story and a half style and others two story buildings. At that time, nearly all the new homes had water and sewer systems with Delco plants for electricity. The horse and buggy gave way to the motor car of that day, and very shortly the tractor became the medium for farming operations.

It is regrettable that no minutes or treasury reports are available for the next number of years—these were unfortunately burned in a fire suffered by the member who was secretary at that time. It is known however, that for a number of years the "Aid" meetings were more or less a social afternoon as money was scarce and the Church depended to some extent on the Mission Board for funds. At that time, this district was under the Claresholm Pastorate and the Pastor would often stop at Chris Hellevang's for a tank of gas to take him on his way. Icome Tax was certainly no problem in those days.

It was about the time also that members of other denominations joined the Lutheran Aid, mostly for the social element, and then found a real lasting interest in the work of the Lutheran Church when they realized that at the meetings they were encouraged to express their views and use their talents.

1939 saw the outbreak of war and strangely enough the dry seasons gave way to seasons of bountiful crops and once again prosperity was evident in the district and was reflected in the "Aid" as well.

In 1940 there was a move to reduce the grant of $200.00 received from the Mission Board. Mrs. Northcott was very active at this time as President of the "Aid" and organist of the Church, and under her guidance and hard work, much was accomplished for the Church through the Aid.

To the "Aid" as to all things mortal years brought their changes and by 1946, and in the next years that any records are available, we find that minutes and business records are being kept in the English language, and a second generation of members are very active at meetings.

In 1947, the Church was self-supporting and under the leadership of Pastor Haugan, a start was made to remodel the Church. Carpentering and the heavy work was undertaken by the men folks and the "Aid" members took over the cleaning up jobs and the decorating.

In 1947, the "Aid" lost a faithful member when Mrs. Alf Heather passed away quietly in her sleep, and although not a Lutheran, Mrs. Heather was a faithful member and worker for many years.

In 1948, the "Aid' was stunned and shocked by the passing of Mrs. Northcott after an operation in an Edmonton hospital. She was a much loved member and her passing was a great loss to the "Aid' and Church as well. In her memory, an altar and christening font were donated to the Church by the "Aid", and Mr. Northcott gave the Church a Cross, also in her memory. Her hope and prayer to have the Church fully decorated was not realized until after she was gone. Her last wish for the Aid and Church was— "Keep it up'. May God bless our work to that extent.

In 1950, we lost another loved member in the passing of Mrs. Pauline Thompson. She was a faithful worker until her health failed, and when she entertained the meeting how she loved to load her huge dining table with fried chicken and all the trimmings! Alway as guests for the afternoon there would be the members of the Queenstown W.I. Elmer, her son, donated $30.00 to the "Aid" in her memory and this was used to purchase candlesticks for the Church.

In 1953, one of the original members, Mrs. Soli, passed away, and after her passing, Mr. Soli gave the "Aid $20.00 which Mrs. Soli had intended donating herself. This money was used to purchase Concordia Hymn Books in her memory. We miss these faithful members and their work for the "Aid" and Church, but believe their answer can be found in Matt 6:19.

Only one of the original members is still active with us. She is Mrs. Morseth, truly a gracious hostess. Everyone enjoys the meeting at her home. Should the meeting be in the summertime, there is sure to be fresh strawberries from her own garden and grand angel cake, fit food indeed for the angels as well as mere mortals!

Another original member, Mrs. Margit Johnson still lives in the district and although her eyesight has failed, we would ask all members to pray for her, visit her and read the Bible for her. She misses these precious words that mean so much to her, but having a good memory, she remembers the Bible verses. She is now 72 years old. Our student minister and his wife Mr. and Mrs. Walter Evenson of Minneapolis, enjoy calling on both Mr. and Mrs. Johnson. Mr. Johnson, better known as Elick, does a good job of cooking and caring for his wife. Mrs. Johnson is still interested in the work of the "Aid' and looks forward to the writeups of the meetings in the Advocate, which Elick reads to her.

For a number of years, meetings have been more or less routine, but this is by no means to be taken to mean that the members are in a rut. Projects to raise funds are always to the fore of the business, and these take different and new ideas from time to time. A bazaar has been held annually for a long time now and usually brings in over $200.00 for the treasury. Galloping teas have been held, as well as afternoon teas which with home cooking and the sale of flowers as a side line. Selling lunches at farm auctions have been undertaken with profitable results. In 1953, the members catered to the wedding reception of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Boyd (nee Dorothy Winch; also for Christmas 1953, greeting cards were sold as a means to raise money.

On the outgoing ledger, you will find items for missionary work, donations to Old Folks Homes, and many other worthwhile efforts which have been brought to the attention of the meeting. Broadcasts of the "Lutheran Hour" have been sponsored, and always uppermost are the needs of the Church. Cleaning-up bees are sponsored and any paints or varnish required are purchased by the "Aid" members. During the last few years, 10 life Membership pins have been given to members for faithful work in the "Aid" Instead of purchasing flowers for departed friends, it is becoming increasingly popular to donate the money to some worthy cause in memory of the departed one. During the war years, used clothing drives were undertaken for Foreign Mission work, and these are still a yearly project. Mrs. Jack Deitz should be highly commended for the way in which she has convened this worthwhile work on our behalf.

The Lutheran Ladies Aid has for a great many years been a friendly meeting places for both Lutheran and non-Lutheran neighbours of this Commuity. An atmosphere of friendliness prevails at the meetings and everyone takes a keen interest in the planning of the task ahead. Good "eats" are still a feature of the meetings with fruit salads and homebaked buns, and then for dessert very often ice-cream and mountain high angel cakes.

At Christmas time, former members and shutins are remembered with a Christmas card and an exchange of gifts has become a regular feature of the December meeting.

It is worthy of note that most of the early bookkeeping was in the Norwegian language, and now there are very few who speak this. No doubt most of the members could speak it at that time, have been confirmed in the Norwegian lanuage. I do not think we will ever forget 1932 which brings us up to our new bookkeeping where minutes were taken down at all meetings. We cherish those days with our members who have passed away. May they never be forgotten! "God be with us 'til we meet again'.

The "Aid' has come a long way since 1915 and next year being the 40th anniversary, we are leaving the comparison of the changes for the history of that year.

Now, at last, but by no means least, we would pay tribute to one who has given untiring Christian effort to the compilation of the foregoing history of work of the pioneed Ladies Aid.

Town and country folks lined the main street in the town on Wednesday morning for the first parade in Milo's history (first since I've been here anyway). The participants were the pupils of Grades one and three capably led by a wee drum majorette. All the children were dressed in Hallowe'en costumes, wearing masks made by themselves, and I may say they looked so real and the work on them is certain worthy of mention. The small clowns did an excellent job of acrobating.

They were lead by their teacher, Miss Lucille Thorstenson. Most of us who know the youngsters were not able to recognize them for their disguise was so perfect. Adults enjoyed this treat and certainly are looking forward to more in the future.

There was an excellent turnout of members and visitors at the Evangelist services held at the Lutheran church here the past week. Pastor Hope of Medicine Hat conducted the services.

The I.O.O.F. hall was crowded Friday evening for the annual masquerade ball. Prizes for costumes went to the following: Lorna Umschied, Mrs. Art Marks, Mrs. Bill Marks, John Webber, Mrs. Alfred Heather and Mrs. Dan McCord (jointly). Mrs. Anbrey Gore and Mrs. Billy Sukut (jointly Some of the above women took prizes for the best dressed men. Sharon Phillips and Donna Bitarf took the children's prizes.
